

What you need to start a chapter

1. A faculty adviser, who must be a regular member of the ASBMB.
2. At least five student members.
3. Register the chapter at www.asbmb.org/student-chapters (must be completed by the adviser).
4. Pay annual chapter dues of $200, which covers the first 10 members. Dues are $20 for each additional member.

Chapter responsibilities

1. Organize regular on-campus meetings.
2. Conduct science outreach in local community.
3. Recruit new members.

Cover (from top to bottom):

Lema Abuqgab, secretary and director of conferences for the Tufts University ASBMB Student Chapter

Olivia Miller, member of the Otterbein University's ASBMB Student Chapter

Nana Aikins, executive board member of the Rochester Institute of Technology's ASBMB Student Chapter

José Zepeda, former president of the University of Massachusetts Boston's ASBMB Student Chapter

ASBMB

STUDENT CHAPTERS

www.asbmb.org/studentchapters
education@asbmb.org

 ASBMB
American Society for Biochemistry and Molecular Biology

ASBMB Student Chapters

The American Society for Biochemistry and Molecular Biology Student Chapters program is a national network of more than 100 chapters representing more than 1,500 undergraduate students and faculty members dedicated to the advancement of research, education and science outreach. The program provides networking and career-development opportunities at regional and national conferences, resources for research and science outreach, as well as funding and awards.

COURTESY OF NORTHEASTERN UNIVERSITY STUDENT CHAPTER

The ASBMB Student Chapter at Northeastern University won the 2020 Outstanding Chapter Award. This photo was taken at a regional meeting at Northeastern, which included students from a nearby community college. From left are Faith Boyd-Mutinga of Roxbury Community College; Julian Amirault, Kathleen Merritt and Evan Mun of Northeastern; keynote speaker Sloan Devlin of Harvard Medical School; Anders Lindberg, Ariella Bourdeau, and Jared Subiono of Northeastern; and Lleyan Hashim of Roxbury.

Chapter benefits

- Eligibility to apply for funding for outreach activities and on-campus research symposia
- Eligibility to apply for the Outstanding Chapter Award
- Exclusive student travel awards to Discover BMB

Student benefits

- Exclusive research and travel awards
- Eligibility for the ASBMB Honor Society
- All ASBMB undergraduate members receive the following benefits:
 - Online subscriptions to three scientific journals and the member magazine
 - Career-development resources

Left: Officers of the New Mexico State University ASBMB Student Chapter, which was granted the Outstanding Chapter Award in 2022. Pictured, from left, are Theresa Lukitsch (treasurer), Danny Ibañez (president), Mohammad Badawy (secretary) and Clarissa Nuñez (vice president).

Faculty adviser benefits

- Preference for Discover BMB travel awards
- Funding for outreach and undergraduate research projects
- Exclusive networking events with other faculty advisers at the annual meeting and virtually during the year
- All ASBMB regular member benefits

